HUDSON'S BAY GOAL FOR LINDY TODAY

Amy Johnson, British Aviatrix, Reported Forced Down on London-To-Tokyo Flight.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Outstanding events in aviation today:

Pangborn and Herndon flying toward Irkutsk, Siberia, from Moscow, which they left practically 10 hours behind the schedule of Wiley Post and Harold Gatty.

The Lindberghs in Ottawa, hoping to get away by noon for Moose Factory on their leisurely vacation flight to the Orient.

Boardman and Polando still receiving the plaudits of Istanbul, where they landed Thursday non-stop from New York to establish a new distance record.

The Graf Zeppelin back in her gang at Friedrichshafen after a light to the Arctic circle.

Unfavorable weather holds the giant Zeppelin at Rio de Janeiro, but it was hoped she might take off for the Unitates by Monday.

Amy Johnson forced down in Siberia on flight to Tokyo from London.

Herndon and Pangborn flying toward Irkutsk from Moscow, July 31.—(AP)—Speeding a new record—the world flight record—Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Her-
day, approximately 10 hours behind the mark set by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty up to this point.

Expressing confidence they could make New York in four days, barring accidents or unfavorable weather, they planned to make their destination in four jumps, the last of which would be non-stop from Nome to New York.

"Sure we can make it if we get any kind of break," said Herndon,
"we'll make fewer and shorter stops and so make up the difference in time. Our ship is slower than the one Post and Gatty used."

As they roared out of Moscow their newly scheduled stop was Irkutsk, some 3,000 miles away in the middle of Siberia. Their route lay over the Trans-Siberian railway and almost the entire course taken by their predecessors.

Both men there expect to fly to Khabarovsk, thence to Nome across the Sea of Okhotsk and the Bering sea.

They made up some of their lost time by remaining in Moscow only 2 hours more than five hours today.
Post and Gatty stayed longer.

They got in from Berlin before noon, had luncheon with officials of the Soviet Civil Aviation Society who acted as their hosts, refueled and got away.

Both of them brought Russian souvenirs, Siberian skull caps and good chairs as souvenirs of their trip.

They had excellent flying weather on Berlin and good conditions were expected for most of the way to Irkutsk. They looked tired, but both sisted they never felt better in their lives.

One advantage they have over Post and Gatty, they agreed, is that they in "spell" each other at the con-

German Bank Rate Hiked to 15 Per Cent

BERLIN, July 31.—(AP)—The German Reichsbank's central committee today raised the bank's discount rate to 15 per cent and the so-called Lombard rate—the interest on loans against collateral—to 20 per cent.
The discount rate was raised from 10 per cent and the Lombard rate from 15 per cent, where they had stood since July 15.

The higher discount rates generally were anticipated as a necessary measure of the impending general restrictions on banking and credit business. The removal of these restrictions is scheduled to begin next Monday when check transfer operations between banks will be permitted again.

It is possible the resumption of check transfers will be followed Wednesday by a full resumption of banking business with the public.

Thugs Strip, Slug Cab Driver, Use Taxi To Rob Gas Station

Cold-Blooded Bandits Hit T. H. Day Over Head
With Revolver, Take His Clothing and Put Him Out—$16 Holdup Staged.

Three heartless bandits were touring the city late Friday night in taxicab No. 292. The trio, after stripping the driver of every vestige of his clothing and slugging him in the head with a revolver, drove away in his cab to a filling station at Highland and Whitehall streets, according to police reports.

T. H. Day, of 842 Kirkwood avenue, driver of the cab, said that early Friday night three young men entered his cab at the stand at Tenth and Peachtree streets, and directed him to drive to Morningside. He drove on Highland avenue, he said, and turned in at East Morningside drive. When he had gone about a hundred yards from Highland, he said, one of the passengers struck a gun in his back and forced him into the back seat of the machine. The youth then took Day's car, climbed behind the wheel and drove on a few more yards.

Then, Day said, the three men got out and forced him to enter a woods, where they proceeded to remove every bit of his clothing, including his coat.
They took $4 in cash and the clothes and started to drive away. Then they returned, and the one with the gun said, "I think I'll just bump you off."
But, when Day pleaded with him, changed his mind and contented himself with reversing the revolver and hitting him over the head.

CO-OP WILL LOWER COTTON ADVANCES SMITH TO APPEAL MOUZON DECISION

Withholding of Unused
Staple Forces Action,
Creekmore Announces.

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, July 31.—(AP)—In addressing the farmers' short course here today, E. F. Creek-more, vice president and general manager of the American Cotton Co-operative Association, announced that the association's policy to avoid adjustments to heavy accumulations of unsold American cotton would make impracticable a continuance of the 30 per cent advance on farmers' cotton.

He said the association was not prepared to announce, at the moment, the percentage of advance to be made to members of the co-operative during the 1933-34 season.

"While I feel that our policy of last season," said Mr. Creekmore, "in keeping off the market our holdings at a time when the financial structure of the south might have been wrecked, had it been called upon to endure the shock of an additional 2,000,000 bales contributed to the welfare of both member and non-member, yet this action was, in its nature, emergency relief designed to aid, not alone the farmer, but the entire south. The crisis which faced us last year, when the production cost of the crop far in excess of its market value at the time of harvest, justified our course."

"The problem which confronts the price of American cotton is, primarily, the overproduction of cotton, coupled with decline in quality. The former will be solved by the adjustment of decreased production and increased consumption, while the latter must find its cure in the use of better seed and intensive cultivation."

"Accordingly," he said, "we have pledged ourselves to the cause of quality, better methods of cultivation, diversification to an extent permitting ample feed and vegetable crops, and to all elements which tend to raise the standard of our agricultural life on one hand, and on the other hand, to the employment of efficient marketing principles."

Both of them brought Russian
souvenirs, Siberian skull caps and good chairs as souvenirs of their trip.

PROPOSAL TO HIKE CITY WATER RATES OFFERED IN HOUSE

Measure Is Protested by McRae; Registration
Bill of Fulton-DeKalb Delegation Beaten.

Proposal to increase by 25 per cent
the Atlanta water rates, in a bill signed by Representative Still, of Fulton, and three members of the DeKalb county delegation, failed, in an afternoon session, of a bill sponsored by all members of the Fulton and De-Kalb delegations, and the adoption of a resolution calling for an investigation of the pension department, were high spots in the lower house of the general assembly Friday.

Although the rules committee had recommended, and the house had once voted, to have a Saturday session, it approached the end of Friday morn-ing's session with a parliamentary snarl which made it necessary for it to reverse itself, hold an afternoon session and adjourn over the weekend. About 60 members, requesting leaves of absence, convinced Speaker Fucker that a quorum would not be present if a session were ordered today.

Atlanta's boosting of water rates, urged by Mayor James E. Key to solve the city's fiscal problems and keep the schools open, advocated by Still and the three DeKalb members, was protested by Representative William G. McRae. The name of Representative Eckford was originally on the protest, but he was scratched out before the bill was referred to a committee.

Charter Limits Increase.
The present city charter prohibits any increase in water rates except for the single purpose of extending the waterworks system.

Defeat of a bill urged by the Atlanta League of Women Voters and introduced by all six members of the Fulton and DeKalb delegations was one of the surprises of an afternoon session which considered only uncontested local bills and general bills of a local application. There was no debate on the measure, and 109 members were in the hall at the time of its introduction.

It would have changed the method of registration so that signatures would be required for checking a voter's eligibility at an election and provided for the election of a commissioner of the city and county who would have the right to veto any ordinance within the next two years he would not be eligible.
It also consolidated city and county registration lists.

Much of the time of the house was consumed in another debate over a Saturday session. Speaker Arlie D.
Tucker again taking the floor and pleading with the house to sit today and pass local bills.

Afternoon Session Voted.
An agreement, by vote, to hold a session had been reached when it was apparent there would not be a quorum present by the Friday afternoon session.
The house committed to a session Friday,
a motion was made to call the roll
and the house, sensing the situation, proceeded for the afternoon session and a week-end at home.

The resolution calling for a probe of the pension department was introduced by this session of the house.
After six years have passed it must be very difficult," the resolution added, "to establish the legal claim to a pension if any who are

Garrison Acquitted In Slaying of Girl

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 31.—(AP)— Moss Edward Garrison, 37, accused of the murder of his sweetheart, Hazel Bradshaw, was acquitted by a jury of nine men and three women late today.

The body of Miss Bradshaw, who was 22, was found with 17 knife wounds in the brilliant Indian village in Balboa park May 3.

The jury deliberated less than two hours and acquitted Garrison on the first ballot. Garrison's demeanor of calm assurance maintained throughout the two weeks' trial did not leave him as the clerk read the verdict.

As the jury filed out of the box
Garrison stepped forward and shook hands with them.

The defendant went to the jail reserved to make a statement and a few minutes later was released.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bradshaw, parents of the girl, were not present when the verdict was read.

Story Says Coolidge May Run for President

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—
Calvin Coolidge, said the St. Paul Dispatch today in a copyrighted story, may be a 1932 presidential candidate if he is drafted.

The Dispatch quoted Colonel James F. Coupland, former White House physician and personal friend of the ex-president, as his authority. Colonel Coupland is spending a vacation at Lake Minnetonka.

"Mr. Coolidge will run for president in 1932 if the people of this country evince an unmistakable and unquestionable desire to 'wraft' him
to pull the country out of this period
of depression and if he can have the presidency without any political or other obligations attached to it," the Dispatch quoted Colonel Coupland as saying.

DEKALB-FULTON MERGER FOUGHT

Lindsey and Leathers File
Protest on Colleague's Measure.

A protest filed on the bill of Representative Henry A. Beaman to allow DeKalb to vote on a proposed merger with Fulton by his colleagues, Representatives Lindsey and Leathers, Friday promised to become the major issue in DeKalb county politics when election time rolls around again.

After a hearing before the committee Thursday, with Beaman not stating whether he favored the merger or not, the bill was reported out unanimously. Lindsey had said that, although he opposed a merger, he was willing for the people to have a vote on it.

Assistant United States Attorney Hal Lindsey, who has been one of the leaders in the merger movement, was at the Capitol soon after he learned that the bill had been proposed. Its passage by the house is considered highly improbable since the delegation split.

"It means," Lindsey said, "that the spring housecleaning in DeKalb is under way. We won't get a chance to state our position on the bill, but we are not now but we will have an inning at the polls."

A delegation of DeKalb businessmen called on Beaman today and asked him to withdraw the bill, contending that he was jeopardizing his political future.

I will not do anything of the kind, Beaman said. "I promised the people I would vote to let them vote on this question and I won't wench on that promise if I never hold another office."

DeKalb political gossip was that Senator John Wesley Weekes, opposed of the merger, had persuaded the county evince an unmistakable and unquestionable desire to 'wraft' him
to pull the country out of this period
of depression and if he can have the
presidency without any political or other obligations attached to it," the Dispatch quoted Colonel Coupland as saying.

Johnny Dobbs Freed by Recorder For Taking 'Poke' at Umpire Goes

If an umpire takes a crack at a player, that's news, Judge John L. Cone, city recorder, ruled in effect Friday afternoon, when he dismissed a case against Johnny Dobbs, manager of the Atlanta Crackers, for taking a crack at an umpire.

The umpire was Ed Goes and he was represented in police court by former Governor John M. Slaton, who moved that both defendants be put on probation, since they are good friends now and willing to let begones be bygones. But Judge Cone went the distinguished counsel one better, and dismissed the case.

This court holds that it is characteristic of baseball players to relieve their pent-up emotions, every now and then, at the expense of some umpire," he said.

Thus ended a cause celebre that started with fastidious Judge John L. Cone's ruling on May 25, when Johnny Dobbs drove home his argument with Umpire Goes by swinging a right to the jaw, and reached its climax when, week before last, Dobbs became so much preoccupied with his Crackers that he forgot to show up in police court, at the appointed time, for his hearing on a charge of disorderly conduct.

He was cited for contempt of court but afterwards, in a sincerely contrite spirit, explained everything and was heartily forgiven. Judge Cone is a baseball fan himself.

OFFICERS ORDERED TO SHOOT TO KILL

With Metropolis Aroused,
Police Commissioner
Orders 24-Hour Patrol
by Heavily Armed Force

BY FRANK H. GERVASI.
NEW YORK, July 31.—(AP)—The second gang shooting of the day and the third in a week blazed forth late today, at the hour when rapid-fire shotguns were being doled out to detectives for a citywide war to the death on gunmen.

The gunplay, in which two men, one passerby, were critically wounded, started a new reign of fear in the upper East Side zone where, on Tuesday night, racketeers shot five children at play, one of them fatally.

It occurred only four blocks from the scene of the children's tragedy, in 1034 street near Third avenue and claimed as its victim, besides the innocent bystander, an alleged Harlem
"policy game" promoter.

Whether or not it was gangland's defiance to the latest police department's order to "shoot on sight and aim at the waist" any racketeers detectives encountered at their work in the city, it had the effect of height-ening the indignation throughout the city which followed the shooting of the children of "Little Italy."

One of Trio Wounded.
First of New York's police to act upon Commissioner Mulrooney's order to shoot "obnoxious" men, the other, Patrolman Joseph A. McFarland tonight seriously wounded one of three young men whom he sought for holding up a corridor shop.

Anthony Rizzoli, 19, was shot through his right lung by McFarland as he and two companions left a corridor shop in Lexington avenue. McFarland seized Rizzoli's gun, shot him and left him lying on the sidewalk while he pursued and caught Anthony Massaro, 19, two blocks away.

Commissioner Mulrooney was hurried to the precinct station where McFarland made his report, and congratulated him.

As in the previous cases, the gunmen made their escape, outrunning police who sped to the scene from nearby posts in time to glimpse them as they fled.

Both of the latest victims were near death in an uptown hospital while scores of detectives sought vainly again to pierce the silence of the neighborhood.

"Policy" Promoter Shot.
One of the victims was Joseph Gazola, 27, described by police as "Dogs," a "policy game" man. The other, who was passing within the firing range was Frank Cristofa, 24, a resident of the gunmen-infested area.

Ernest "Duke" Ferreri, a clothing manufacturer, was slain when 14 shotgun slugs were sent into his body by three men who drove past

Peaches To Rot on Trees Because of Price, Say Growers

Shippers Losing $175 Per Car, Says Market Bureau Director.

MACON, Ga., July 31.—(P)—The Macon News today said a survey of the Georgia peach belt disclosed that growers generally had stopped shipments because prices offered were below the cost of production. The fruit will be allowed to rot on the trees.

The News said growers, approached in the survey said present prices would hardly pay the cost of freight and blamed high freight rates for a part in their inability to make the crop pay.

J. W. Woolfolk, of Fort Valley, extensive grower of peach and Houston counties in the center of the belt, said growers in both counties had stopped shipments.

A. D. Jones, director of the Georgia bureau of markets, from Atlanta advised Elberta growers to cease picking their fruit until they received a cash offer to cover picking and packing.

He said New York prices were so low they would lose $175 a car if the fruit was shipped. The market director declared prices had dropped from $2.50 to $2.25 a bushel on July 7 to scarcely 50 cents a bushel today.

CLEAR OF ONE CHARGE, MAN HELD ON SECOND

MACON, Ga., July 31.—(P)—Police here announced tonight that a man giving the name of Jack Goldie had established an alibi that cleared him in the shooting of a Jacksonville druggist, but was being held on request of Melbourne, Fla., authorities.

The message from Melbourne asking that Goldie be held pending investigation did not assign any reason. Jacksonville authorities were en route to Macon to question Goldie when they were turned back by a message from Paul Brigham, local narcotic inspector, saying he had checked the man's alibi and found that he was not in Jacksonville last Tuesday night when Dr. H. E. Stewart was shot by a robber who sought his stock of narcotics.

15 FLOYD MEN GUILTY OF AUTO THEFT PLOT

Sixth Defendant Released on Not Guilty Verdict Directed by Judge.

ROME, Ga., July 31.—Tom, Dick and Harry Salmon, Arzoo Burns and Cicero Hammond, Floyd county men, were convicted Friday night in United States district court of conspiracy to violate the national motor vehicle theft act. Tom and Dick Salmon and Arzoo Burns were given two years in the penitentiary and fined $2,000. Harry Salmon was fined $1,000 and placed on probation for five years. He was given 30 days to pay the fine and bond was assessed at $1,000. Cicero Hammond was given 15 months in the penitentiary but the sentence was suspended and he was placed on five years' probation, providing he gives up his office of notary public and justice of the peace.

Defense counsel filed motion for new trial immediately for Tom and Dick Salmon and Arzoo Burns but Judge Grubb overruled the motion and gave 90 days in which to make appeal, pending which defendants are to make $5,000 bond to be given by a surety company.

J. W. Moore, who pleaded guilty earlier in the week to four cases of a similar nature, was placed on probation for five years. He is now serving a sentence in the Atlanta penitentiary on a similar charge from Oklahoma.

A verdict of not guilty was directed by Judge William I. Grubbs in the charge against Buck Salmon, sixth member of the alleged auto theft gang, after testimony in the case was completed at noon today.

AIR CRASH VICTIM DIES OF INJURIES IN ROYSTON

ROYSTON, Ga., July 31.—(P)—Loomis Burdette, 37, died in Brown's hospital here late last night from injuries received Thursday in an airplane crash near here. He was the father of six children.

William Mack Crawford, 22, brother of Dr. Herschel Crawford, of Atlanta, the pilot of the plane, was seriously injured.

The plane went into a tail spin several hundred feet in the air.

A. M. E. CONVENTION MEET IN COVINGTON

COVINGTON, Ga., July 31.—The forty-fifth session of the Monticello district Sunday school and missionary convention of the African Methodist Episcopal church, holding annual district sessions in St. Paul A. M. E. church, Rev. B. V. Thornton, D. D., presiding elder of the district, presiding.

Revs. Heywood Hill, Joseph Dudley and W. L. Renfro assisted in conducting the divine services.

The organization was perfected in the election of the following officers: A. M. Blossom and Azora Hendrix, secretaries; Louise Hendrix, organist; Marchell Griffin, G. G. Grubbs, Jr., Hildon Martin, church periodicals; Revs. L. A. Stroud, A. Hill, A. D. Hardeman.

Malison was place for next convention in 1932.

State Deaths And Funerals

MISS RACHEL HOWARD, GAINESVILLE, Ga., July 31.—Miss Rachel Edith Howard, missionary of the Church Mission Society of London, died at Palmont, Md., night. Miss Howard was the sister of Norman Howard, of the office of the state. She was born in Tottenham, England. Miss Howard and a daughter, a missionary, were being last month awarded a medal for notable service.

Miss Howard was a resident of Gainesville in 1905 and 1907, and while here served as organist for the Episcopal church.

ALL-BRAN BROUGHT WELCOME RELIEF

THOUSANDS of letters attest to the efficiency of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in overcoming constipation. For instance, Mr. James D. McEnery, Alto, Texas, relates his experience:

"For fifteen years I was constantly bothered with constipation. . . . Some eighteen months ago, I began using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. From the first week to this good day, I have never had to take a dose of laxative medicine of any description."

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the largest-selling all-bran cereal in the world. Two tablespoons daily are guaranteed to give relief. How much safer than using habit-forming laxatives.

ALL-BRAN also adds needed iron to build the blood. In the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Prosperity Waits on Equality In Wealth, Declares Ramspeck

MACON, Ga., July 31.—(P)—Prosperity will come only when there is a more equal distribution of wealth among the masses of the people, in the opinion of Representative Robert C. Ramspeck, of the fifth congressional district.

Speaking at the Macon Civic Club here today, Representative Ramspeck said there had been such a concentration of wealth in this country that 200 business corporations, excluding banks and trust companies, of 300,000 such institutions, have 40 per cent of the income and own 45 per cent of the assets.

He pointed, too, to the fact that 80 per cent of the wealth of this country is owned by 4 per cent of the people.

"I'm not making an attack on wealth legitimately acquired," he said, "but I don't see how we're going to have prosperity until there is a more equal distribution of wealth among the masses of the people."

"We've forgotten that we are charged with being our brother's keeper. We've forgotten everything but the almighty dollar."

Representative Ramspeck sees evil, he said, in the attitude of businessmen toward public affairs. In a city the size of Atlanta, he said, there should be probably 100,000 registered voters, but there never has been more than 12,500 votes polled in an election there.

DEFENSE AT PADGETT TRIAL BUILDS ALIBI

State Rests and Attorneys Attack Credibility of "Confession."

VALDOSTA, Ga., July 31.—When the state rested Friday, the fifth day of the trial of Homer Padgett for conspiracy in the murder of W. H. Browning and wife, the defense opened its broadside against the confessions made by the defendant, and which were admitted as evidence over the protest of the defense counsel.

Padgett has repeatedly repudiated the three confessions of guilt, claiming that they were extorted from him by officers who led him to believe they were going to convict him despite his innocence and that a confession would lighten his sentence and save his life.

In opening its attack on the confessions, upon which the state is relying, the defense produced a group of witnesses from High Springs and Newberry, Fla., and intermediate points. These witnesses included C. J. Fowler, Proctor, McGee, Pong and others.

This group of witnesses, who have testified twice before in the trial of Austin and Allen Westberry, swore that they picked up separately a youth on August 21, last, carrying him from High Springs to Newberry, each placing him along to the other. They identify Homer Padgett as the youth they picked up.

CHILDREN SENT HOME FROM UNESCORTED TOUR
BRUNSWICK, Ga., July 31.—(P)—Six Lakeland (Fla.) children, ranging in age from 8 to 13 years, were on their way home today after an impromptu automobile tour.

Bruswick officers detained them here yesterday as the youth of the unescorted tourists attracted their attention. The children told them they were on their way to visit a relative at Ditchville, S. C.

Chatham To Construct Highway to Airport

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 31.—(P)—Chatham county commissioners Friday received deeds to right-of-ways on the new road to the municipal airport and will shortly begin construction of this highway. The city provided the right-of-ways and the county will construct the road. This is to be over 100 feet wide with a parkway down the center. It has been named Emmet Wilson boulevard after the chairman of the airport committee of city council.

The highway will begin several miles out the White Bluff road, a concrete paving, and will run straight to the airport.

GEORGIA BOY DROWNED, SWIMMING AT PICNIC

STATESBORO, Ga., July 31.—(P)—John Kelley, 14-year-old son of Mrs. Ada Kelley, was drowned in a stream near Macedonia church, about eight miles north of here, about 11 o'clock this morning.

He was taking a swim at a picnic with a group of friends. Persons on the banks were unable to help the boy. They saw him go under the water and never came up. After a search of two and one-half hours, J. Paul Groover, a young man in the party, rescued the body. The body was brought to Statesboro.

Opposition Is Withdrawn To Proposed Dixie Terminal

Speedy Legislative Approval Now Sought To Assure Completion of Structure by Next Spring.

Assured that the Dixie Terminal unit of the United States Cold Storage Corporation will not enter into the ice manufacturing business, the Atlantic Ice & Coal Co., opponents of the proposed storage plant to be built on the site of the old Union depot has withdrawn objection to the enactment of the resolution now before the house.

When the measure was first under consideration before the house committee it was attacked by representatives of the Atlantic Ice & Coal Co., and other ice manufacturing plants on the ground that it gave the Dixie Terminal Company the right, if it wished to do so, to manufacture ice, which the objecting companies explained would put them at a disadvantage as the company occupying the ice property would have no taxes to pay, while they would have to bear the normal burden of state taxation.

Protesting companies made it clear that generally speaking they recognized the advantage that would accrue to the agriculture of the state with the completion of the cold storage plant.

The committee suggested that the two sides confer to see if they could reach an agreement on the ice manufacturing detail.

After several conferences the Atlantic Ice & Coal Corporation, and other protesting companies, withdrew all objection to the measure and the resolution was unanimously recommended by the state Western & Atlantic commission.

The house committee by unanimous action reported the resolution favorably and prompt action is expected by the house at an early date.

Speedy Approval Sought.

Efforts to have the $1,000,000 cold storage and warehouse unit of the big construction development completed and in operation by next spring in time to benefit the growers of next season's crops are being striven for in seeking speedy legislative approval.

It was pointed out Thursday by J. K. Irwin, who is superintending affairs here for the Dixie Terminal Building Company.

Mr. Irwin cited the statements made by E. M. Dodds, president of the United States Cold Storage Company, of Kansas, parent organization to the Dixie Terminal Building Company, on his special visit here to speak before the legislative committee's recent hearing on the project.

The second bill by the house committee and ended with the committee unanimously approving the bill to sanction lease of the state site for the Dixie Terminal building, objections to the measure, such as were brought out by ice manufacturers and other interests at the first hearing, having been cleared away.

President Dodds, while explaining that the company could not afford to commit itself on a definite date for beginning construction of the first $1,000,000 unit, indicated at the recent committee hearing that, granting favorable action by the legislature now in session, erection of the cold storage plant would be under way in 60 to 90 days. He indicated that the aim of the company was to have the plant in operation by spring. Estimates show that it would take only five to six months to complete the first unit, as already around $200,000 had already been expended in preliminary and foundation requirements, now completed.

According to present plans, Unit A is the principal portion of the proposed development. It contains 256,000 square feet (nine-tenths) as much as the Hurt building, now Atlanta's largest office building and except for the Pryor street frontage will be devoted entirely to cold storage and warehouse purposes.

Frozen Fruit Development.

Of local crops that will be provided for by the cold storage facilities there will be frozen peaches, peanuts and watermelons, while development of a widespread frozen fruit industry will be undertaken.

In addition to these, many products for storage, now using the company's facilities located at Kansas City and Chicago, will be brought to Atlanta and stored here, products that never were stored here before.

An experimental department, now maintained by the company at one of its other plants and which is to be established in Atlanta when the local plant is completed, is expected to be a dominant factor in fostering development of a frozen fruit industry in Georgia and the surrounding sections.

While with the committee's approval of the pending measure, no further delay in action on the resolution is anticipated, financing and resumption of building cannot be effected until the resolution has been approved.

The resolution pending before the house provides for restoration of plaintiffs in the case of the Wilson Lumber Company and others versus the federal government, the Atlantic Coast Line railroad and others.

The case is known as the famed "three-judge case." Some time ago it was heard before Federal Judges Samuel H. Wiley, E. Marvin and William H. Barrett. It was then carried to the United States court of appeals and the decision in the matter reversed. The matter involves railroad rates on logs shipped from points in north Florida, and it is expected that the claims may run as high as $200,000. All claims are to be made to the master by September 1, and his report must be made by November 1.

Chaufeur Killed.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 31.—(AP)—Mack Bateman, chauffeur for United States engineers of the Memphis district, was killed almost instantly today when his car was hit by a train near the government fleet on the Arkansas side of the Mississippi river. Details of the accident were lacking.

Father Held, Son Freed in Rum Selling Case

The case of a crippled man and his small son, both charged with selling whisky, was aired before United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith Friday.

The father was held on a $500 bond for the federal grand jury and the boy was released.

C. B. Fink, one-legged man, was charged by prohibition agents with selling whisky and his 15-year-old son, Edgar Fink, charged with aiding him. It was testified at the hearing that the boy was sent by the father to bring liquor when the agents made their alleged purchase. The child went after it unwillingly, the testimony stated.

In this statement Commissioner Griffith released the boy. Judge Griffith stated that the elder Fink had been charged with liquor violation once before.

MURDER IS CHARGED IN FINDING OF BODY

Murder was charged in the verdict of the Cobb county coroner's inquest into the death late Thursday of a 60-year-old unidentified white man whose body was found near the underpass of the Atlanta-Marietta highway a mile beyond the Chattahoochee river. The man's skull was crushed.

"Death at the hands of a party or parties, unknown," was the verdict Friday. Although hundreds of persons viewed the body of the slain man in a Marietta funeral parlor, none could offer a clue to the identity of the man.

Marks found on the ankles suggested to Cobb county officers that he had been a member of a chain gang, but this theory was not substantiated.

Discovery of the body, lying in a ditch near the underpass on the Marietta-Atlanta highway was made Friday by Will Vellars, a negro, who reported it to county officials. The preliminary examination showed that the man had been dead approximately 24 hours.

The sheriff's office at Marietta late Friday discounted suggestions that the man possibly had been the victim of a hit-and-run driver. Officers stated that the head had been struck by some instrument.

DAYLIGHT BURGLAR CAUGHT IN DECATUR

A daylight burglary, one of several in Decatur in recent weeks, was frustrated Friday when Chief G. S. Swords and Patrolman F. B. Walden caught a negro in 931 Tremont avenue with about $170 worth of clothing, packed in suitcases and overnight bags, ready to carry out, according to the chief.

A neighbor living across the street telephoned the office of the chief, he said, saying that a strange negro had been seen prowling around the premises. Calling his assistant, Swords went to the address, and, stationing Walden at the front, went around to the back, the two officers entering together. The negro was standing in front of a chiffoniere with the top drawer, containing jewelry, open. When he saw the entering men, he started toward Walden, who fired once, grazing the negro's head. At the police station the negro gave his name as George Hardeman, and his address as Monroe. He confessed to three other daylight burglaries, the chief said. He is being held without bond on a charge of burglary.

BARRON INDICTED ON HIT-RUN CHARGE

Victor Barron, Atlanta newspaper man, was indicted by the Fulton grand jury Friday on a hit-and-run charge and exonerated on a charge of involuntary manslaughter. A no-bill was returned on the manslaughter charge. The hit-and-run indictment, charging a misdemeanor, was based on an accident several weeks ago when Miss Grace Platt, a trained nurse, was hit by a car. She died some time later.

The bill alleges that Barron drove his car into the nurse at Capitol avenue and Crumley street and that he did not stop and give his name or other information, nor did he report the accident to the police. The no-bill was for the same accident.

A total of 17 true bills were returned in other cases. Champ Roby, Clint Holcomb, Winford Peterson and Clint Wood were named jointly in a robbery indictment which charges that they robbed R. C. Sewell of $17 and his watch on July 25. Ralph Williams was indicted on a charge of burglary, it being alleged that on July 27 he robbed the home of G. W. Longino of a dime bank containing a dollar and three dimes in other money.

LUMBER RATE CASE WILL BE REOPENED

Horace M. Holden, of Atlanta, Friday was named special master to receive claims for restitution of plaintiffs in the case of the Wilson Lumber Company and others versus the federal government, the Atlantic Coast Line railroad and others.

The case is known as the famed "three-judge case." Some time ago it was heard before Federal Judges Samuel H. Wiley, E. Marvin and William H. Barrett. It was then carried to the United States court of appeals and the decision in the matter reversed. The matter involves railroad rates on logs shipped from points in north Florida, and it is expected that the claims may run as high as $200,000. All claims are to be made to the master by September 1, and his report must be made by November 1.

ATLANTA MAN SHOT
AS BURGLAR SUSPECT

F. M. Scurry, 31, of 607 Seminole avenue, was struck at Grady hospital Friday for gunshot wounds in the legs inflicted by A. Bruce, 42, of 905 Gardner street, who said he suspected Scurry of being a burglar.

Bruce said he was awakened by someone trying to break into his house and that when he got up to investigate he saw Scurry apparently prowling about a neighbor's house.

Scurry fled at his command to stop, he said, and Bruce fired. Scurry, on the other hand, told police that he was walking down Carmel street; that Bruce stopped him and inquired his business, and fired without provocation. Both are under bond pending a hearing.

COUNCIL MAY ABOLISH WORLD'S FAIR GROUP

Council Monday will be asked to dissolve the world's fair committee, established several weeks ago by vote of that body to push plans for the event as a feature of the observance of the centennial of the founding of Atlanta in 1847.

The committee voted unanimously to ask council to abolish the body after Alderman James E. Bowden, chairman, explained he believes projection of the matter premature at this time.

Captain W. H. Graves, Of Birmingham, Dies

Atlanta's Father and Alabama Leader Passes at Summer Home.

Captain William Henry Graves, 97, father of Mrs. Edward D. Smith, of Atlanta, and pioneer resident of Birmingham, Ala., died Wednesday at his summer home in Asheville, N. C.

Funeral services will be held this morning in Birmingham, Dean Raimundo de Ovies, of St. Philip's cathedral, Atlanta, officiating. Interment will be in the cemetery at West End Baptist church, Dr. M. A. Cooper officiating. Interment was in West View cemetery. Mrs. Sheffield, a B. A. and L.L.D. degree. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity.

Outlook of the Civil War, Captain Graves enlisted in General "Joe" Wheeler's cavalry, and at the end had risen to the rank of captain. He then started to practice law in Montgomery, Ala., and in the early nineties invested in real estate in Birmingham to such an extent that he became one of the largest property holders in that city. In his eighty-second year he gave up his law practice and devoted his time to literature, publishing a book, "Junius Letters," to the satisfaction of most reviewers that the author of the anonymously published "Junius Letters" was Thomas Paine.

Besides his daughter in Atlanta, he is survived by two other daughters, Mrs. Harrison S. Matthews, Birmingham, and Mrs. Frederick Gunster, New York city, as well as four grandchildren, Mrs. Charles B. Whitworth, Nashville, Tenn., and Graves, Addison, Tenn., and two great-grandchildren, Eleanor and Charles Whitworth Jr. of Atlanta.

FUNERAL RITES HELD FOR SAMUEL G. ROOK

Samuel G. Rook, 83-year-old veteran of the War Between the States, who died Wednesday at the Confederate Veterans' home, was buried with military honors Friday in Crest Lawn cemetery, after funeral services at Spring Hill, Major C. P. Fletcher, of the United States army, officiated.

Rook was present at the surrender of General Joseph E. Johnston at Greensboro, 17 days after Lee had done the same at Appomattox. Rook living is his wife, a daughter, Lalla Rook, and a son, T. B. Rook, both of Atlanta.

GAINES DEFENDS SUTTON'S ABSENCE

Agreeing that Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of Atlanta public schools, should devote "practically all his time" to the system, W. W. Gaines, president of the board of education, Friday afternoon defended recent absences from the borough of the superintendent, saying he had the "express permission of the board to serve as president of the National Education Association and to devote the required time to the job."

Gaines' letter was written to Walter S. McNeal Jr., president of the South Side Civic Federation, who demanded Sutton's resignation because he had "neglected the schools."

Text of Gaines' letter follows: "I have your favor of the 28 instant. I agree with you that the duties of the superintendent of schools require his presence with about $170 worth of clothing, packed in suitcases and overnight bags, ready to carry out, according to the chief.

A neighbor living across the street telephoned the office of the chief, he said, saying that a strange negro had been seen prowling around the premises. Calling his assistant, Swords went to the address, and, stationing Walden at the front, went around to the back, the two officers entering together. The negro was standing in front of a chiffoniere with the top drawer, containing jewelry, open. When he saw the entering men, he started toward Walden, who fired once, grazing the negro's head. At the police station the negro gave his name as George Hardeman, and his address as Monroe. He confessed to three other daylight burglaries, the chief said. He is being held without bond on a charge of burglary.

J. L. WASHINGTON, 52, ENDS LIFE BY SHOT

James Lovett Washington, 52, committed suicide at the home of his son, Hammond Washington, 32, 280 North Highland avenue, Friday. The family, hearing a shot, rushed into a spare bedroom, where they found him lying on the floor, a bullet wound in his head and a pistol near his hand. He was taken to a hospital, but died before he reached there. A note was found saying that he intended to take his life due to ill health.

Washington, a native of Hendersonville, N. C., had been visiting his son for about six weeks. Relatives said that he had recently lost a considerable amount in a real estate deal. Funeral arrangements will be announced later by J. Austin Dillon & Company.

GROWERS ADVISED TO HOLD PEACHES

A. D. Jones, director of the Georgia bureau of markets, today advised Elberta peach growers to leave their fruit on the trees unless they received a cash offer to take care of picking and packing.

Jones said the price in New York was so low growers would lose approximately $175 per car if they shipped now.

The July 7 price, f.o.b., was $2.50, $2.75 per bushel, he said, but now growers can scarcely get 50 cents a bushel, f.o.b.

POWER COMPANY SUE
FOR $50,000 DAMAGES

The sudden stopping of a street car on Mitchell street at Washington street on July 6, which caused her to fall to the floor of the car, receiving serious injuries was the basis for a suit for damages of $50,000 against the Georgia Power Company filed in Fulton superior court by Mrs. Emma Tallent, of 587 Washington street, S. W.

Mrs. Tallent sets out that she is a housewife, 32 years of age, and that she was seriously injured and disabled and that a major operation will be necessary to restore her to full health. She charges negligence on the part of the power company in that the car was stopped suddenly and without warning as she was standing at her seat preparatory to alighting. The suit was filed by Ben C. Williford.

RESERVE BANK HERE
WINS $85,966 CLAIM

In an action brought in West Palm Beach, Fla., Friday, the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta was granted a preferred claim of $85,966 against reserve funds of the defunct Palm Beach Bank & Trust Company, which was closed in 1926.

Counsel for the closed bank told the court the award to the Atlanta bank would prohibit a dividend payment, but it was ruled the sixth district federal bank was entitled to the sum for which it sued.

DE OVIES WILL LEAVE ON VACATION SUNDAY

Following his sermon at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, Dean Raimundo de Ovies, of St. Philip's cathedral, will leave on a month's vacation. During his absence, his place will be taken as follows: August 9, the Rev. Ernest Risley, of St. Luke's church, will preach at 11 o'clock; August 16 and 23, Bishop H. J. McKel will be the pulpit for all the services. There will be no celebration of the Holy Communion Sunday mornings, August 2 and 9.

Prayer Said for Mother At Deserted Baby's Grave

NEW ORLEANS, July 31.—(AP)—A prayer was said for the mother who deserted a six-week-old girl baby as the body of the infant in her silk-lined coffin was being lowered Thursday into a grave.

The mother deserted the infant after its birth in Charity hospital and has not learned of its death. As the little body, clad in a dainty hand-embroidered linen dress, was being lowered the minister prayed for the errant mother.

A wealthy woman who had planned to adopt the child wept.

MRS. I. M. SHEFFIELD LAID TO FINAL REST

Final rest for Mrs. I. M. Sheffield, 68, wife of a prominent Atlanta insurance and real estate man, who died Thursday afternoon at the residence, 1038 Peachtree road, were held Friday afternoon at the West End Baptist church, Dr. M. A. Cooper officiating. Interment was in West View cemetery. Mrs. Sheffield, a B. A. and L.L.D. degree. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity.

Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, the Misses Evelyn and Nellie Sheffield; two sons, George O. Sheffield, of Atlanta, and I. M. Sheffield Jr., of Montgomery, Ala.; a sister, Mrs. M. O. Williams; and two brothers, B. A. Owen, of Atlanta, and D. F. Owen, of Anniston, Alabama.

NAVAL AVIATOR KILLED WHEN PLANE BREAKS UP

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 31.—(AP)—Naval Lieutenant T. G. Fisher, commanding officer of VF-6 squadron, was killed Thursday when the plane he was flying broke up during a power dive in bombing exercises.

Lieutenant Fisher is survived by his mother, who is reported to reside at Oxon Hill, Md.

JURY SEEKS TO SPEED M'RAE-ECKFORD BILLS

Body May Call on Russell To Ask Calling of Special Session.

Fulton county's July grand jury will take a hand in pressing for legislative action on McRae-Eckford bills and may go before Governor Russell to urge an extra session if the regular session fails to pass upon the local measures, it developed Friday.

Thomas Pitts, foreman, indicated as much Friday after a two-hour session, in which both McRae and Eckford appeared and discussed the proposed legislation. Representative Luther Still, agreeing to discuss the bills at the capitol, had declined to leave the assembly halls for a grand jury meeting.

Senator E. L. Reagan, who had also been invited, did not attend the grand jury meeting.

Pitts said that because of the large number of witnesses waiting to be heard in connection with routine the grand jury took no definite action with respect to the Fulton bills. Something may be determined Tuesday, he said.

The grand jury foreman would not say whether that body intended calling on the governor to ask an extra session, but rumors were current both at the courthouse and the capitol that such might be done.

HAVANA CAR SERVICE PARALYZED BY STRIKE

HAVANA, July 31.—(AP)—All the trolley car conductors and motormen in Havana went on strike today in protest against proposed wage increases. Service was completely suspended, but buses and taxicabs were adequate to meet the needs of the riding public.

Smithsonian Institution Hits Fortune Telling

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(AP)—The scientific Smithsonian Institution believes that futures of individuals generally are unpredictable by fortune tellers, spirit mediums, or astrologers.

Dr. Charles G. Abbot, secretary of the institution, has so informed the Society of American Magicians of New York, which is attempting to drive fortune tellers out of New York city.

Julian P. Froskauer, president of the Society of American Magicians, first wrote to Attorney-General Mitchell asking a legal decision on the predictability of the future.

The attorney-general turned the question over to other officials of the justice department, who referred Froskauer to the Smithsonian Institution.

ORIENTAL ENTRY PLAN PROPOSED BY CHAMBER

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(AP)—A proposal by businessmen that Japanese and other Orientals be admitted to the United States under quota immigration restrictions instead of being totally excluded was made public today by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Pacific coast businessmen first proposed this action, which would admit only a small number, in order to eliminate the discrimination of the present law against Japanese, Chinese and other Orientals ineligible to citizenship as compared with European immigrants.

Asa G. Briggs, St. Paul, chairman of the chamber's immigration committee, said the quota law would admit approximately 185 Japanese annually and 105 Chinese.

ALABAMA TO PROBE FORGED BILL PASSAGE

Governor Miller Takes Action on Disclosure by Representative.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 31.—(AP)—Governor B. M. Miller said late today that he would ask for a thorough investigation of charges laid before him by Representative Amzi Barber, of Jefferson county, that a house bill passed by the legislature and creating a license commissioner for that county "had been substituted by a forged bill, after it passed the house and before it reached the governor's desk."

Representative Barber came here by plane from Birmingham this afternoon and after a conference with Governor Miller, the chief executive announced he would arrange a conference between Barber and W. T. Seibels, Montgomery county solicitor, tomorrow.

Barber said he would ask the solicitor to place the charges before the Montgomery county grand jury which meets Monday in special session and issue subpoenas for the senate committee on banking and insurance, the Jefferson county legislative delegation, the Birmingham city commission, members of the Jefferson county court of commissioners, Eugene Henry, newly named license commissioner under the act, and Ernest Matthews, Jefferson county attorney.

The Jefferson representative said he told the governor the bill now on file with the secretary of state was not the bill he introduced in the house and that his bill "had been substituted by a forged bill adding a fee clause," which provided for a 5 per cent fee on motor vehicles in the county.

The bill provided a salary of $5,000 annually for the commissioner.

ATLANTA, GA., SATURDAY MORNING, AUGUST 1, 1931.

FIRST SPORTS EACH DAY

Carithers Hurls Crackers to Second Victory Over Vols, 6-3; Cochet Will Join Professional Net Ranks in Mid-September

And so good old Johnny Dobbs doesn't have to go to the hoghouse for putting his right up against Umpire Ed Goes' jaw on the evening night baseball was introduced to Atlanta.

Judge John L. Cone, a most excellent judge, dismissed the case Friday afternoon.

It was the judge's opinion that proved most interesting. In fact I am wondering if it did not set a legal precedent, one which will go side by side with that handed down by an Oklahoma judge a few years ago who said that it was perfectly proper to refer to an umpire as a robber on the field.

According to Mr. T. K. Jones, the paper's own sleuth, and a most excellent one, Judge Cone said, in dismissing the case, "It is characteristic of ball players and umpires that now and then they take a swing at one another."

The Hon. John M. Slaton, who represented Umpire Ed Goes, recommended that the two men be put on probation.

"I'll do better than that," said Judge Cone, "if they are friends now, as I understand they are, I'll dismiss the case. It is characteristic of ball players and managers that now and then they will take a swing at one another."

"Are you friends?" John Dobbs was asked.

"As friendly as one can be with an umpire," said Dobbs.

Goes joined in the laugh. His conduct in the whole affair has been highly commendable. Goes and his partner, Jorda, are two excellent umpires.

The dismissal followed the laugh.

This was undoubtedly tempering justice with mercy and indicates that Judge Cone is possessed of a sense of humor as well as justice. Umpire Goes and Manager Dobbs did not disturb the peace nor create any disorder against the commonwealth. Instead they entertained and thrilled about 10,000 people.

There has been too much order in baseball anyhow. The game has been dehydrated until it has lost much of its color. Of course it is very hard on the jaws of umpires and very wearing on the ribs of managers but a few blows now and then are relished by the cash customers. They do not feel the blows.

The Oklahoma judge declared that for years and years it had been generally accepted that an umpire was a robber on the ball field so far as his decisions were concerned. It would not do, he said, to call the umpire a robber off the field, but while he was out there it was perfectly correct to so nominate him in a story on the game or in calls from the stands. It is part of the umpire's job.

Our jurists are the backbone of our civilization. It is pleasing to find one like Judge Cone.

And when the next manager and the next umpire come up before the bar of justice I hope that the presiding jurist will thumb through his records and find the decision of Judge Cone in the case of the City of Atlanta vs. Dobbs and Goes. And act accordingly.

WINS 33, LOSES 1, CAN'T GO UP.

Mr. L. A. Farrell, who is one of those people who can tell you what George Zich batted and fielded for Wilkes-Barre in 1912, has dug up the best hard-luck story of the past year. Make it two.

Frank Shellenback, leading pitcher for the Pacific Coast league, and the mainstay of the Hollywood Stars, is the principal in the yarn.

Shellenback has won 19 games and lost but one this year. That is a record better than Lefty Grove has been able to muster.

From July 4 of last season, until the close of the 1930 campaign, Shellenback won 14 straight. And so we find that since July 4, 1930, to July 30, 1931, he has won 33 ball games and lost just one.

And yet Frank Shellenback is standing as still as can be so far as advancement in his chosen profession is concerned.

He can't go to the major leagues because he is a spit ball pitcher.

The major leagues banned the spit ball years ago. Most of the minors followed suit. But the Coast league and the Texas league still permit it.

What a lot of moaning the scouts must be doing as they watch Frank Shellenback win. Pitchers are scarce—that is winning pitchers are.

And what a break for the pitcher on the coast that he can't win without the spitter and with it is invincible.

CRACKERS WIN SECOND IN ROW FROM VOLS, 6-3

Johnny Carithers Hurls Club to Second Straight Victory.

By Ralph McGill.

Johnny Carithers, the slim young left-hander who was wearing the University of Georgia colors a couple of years ago, beat the Nashville Vols, 6 to 3, Friday night at Spaulding field, giving the Crackers their second consecutive victory. It was Carithers' first start.

Carithers pitched like a veteran despite the fact that it was his initial appearance as a starter for the Crackers. It was easy to understand how he had won 16 games and lost but in the Palmetto league before joining Dobbs' club.

Carithers, playing head-up baseball, made their seven hits count for six runs. The runs were aided no little by Nashville errors but the Crackers were taking advantage of everything.

JONES PRESENTS CUP.

There were no end of features connected with the game. Before it started the Cracker attendance cup, won in the opening game in April, was presented.

Bobby Jones, one of the club officials, presented the cup to H. Y. McCard, chairman of the board of directors of the Cracker club. The cup was to have been presented three weeks ago by President John D. Martin but rain prevented.

One of the playing features came in the eighth inning. Mule Shire, Cracker first baseman, made all three putouts unassisted.

UNUSUAL BASEBALL.

Mow, walked. Clabauz lined to Shirley who doubled Mow off the bag. Chet Tolson rolled out to Shirley, unassisted. There are no records of it having happened before. It was quite unusual.

In the eighth Catcher Treadwell stopped a hit, a mid-air thinking the pitch was a ball. The ball struck his bat and popped into center-field for a single.

In the third the Vol infield stood still, with the exception of Third Baseman Oberholzer, who slipped and sat down, while Autry's punt put fly fell for an unassisted hit.

DOBS DELIGHTED.

Dobbs was delighted with the showing of Carithers.

"He has what it takes to make a pitcher in addition to stuff, and that is courage," said Dobbs. "I think he will make a real pitcher in time. Carithers struck out five men. Chet Tolson was his man. The big first sacker struck out twice, popped out once and rolled to first another time. Of the five hits only one was for extra bases.

The Crackers scored one in the first. Sheehan walked, went to third on Chapman's single and scored as part of an attempted double steal while the Vols were trying to nab Chapman between first and second.

WALKS AND ERRORS.

Walks and errors, plus a hit by Autry, helped over two tallies in the second. Shirley walked, went to second on Cummings' infield out, and scored when Emmet threw wild to first on Ryan's roller. Ryan took second and scored on Autry's single. An error helped Autry score in the fourth. Chapman tripped and scored on an infield out. And two in the fifth with the aid of two hits, stolen bases and a single in the pinch.

PLAY TODAY.

The Crackers met the Vols this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. See in the AFTERNOON. At 2:30 o'clock.

It was announced that Andy Messenger, pitcher, had been suspended until he recovers from an injury. Zum Zum Zum, one-time Vol and now free agent, has been signed to pitch and will join the club Sunday in Chattanooga where there is a twin bill.

But TODAY's game is at 2:30 in the afternoon.

DOEG IS UPSET AGAIN BY VINES FOR NET CROWN

Pasadena Youngster Comes Back in Finals of Seabright Meet.

By Robert J. Cavagnaro.

SEABRIGHT, N. J., July 31.—(AP) Overcoming a lead of two sets, H. Ellsworth Vines Jr., 19-year-old Pasadena youngster, scored his second victory of the season over John Hope Doeg, of Newark, N. J., national champion, in the final round of the 44th annual Seabright invitation tennis tournament today. The scores were 10-12, 6-8, 6-3, 8-6, 6-1.

The tall University of Southern California sophomore, who had beaten Doeg in the Longwood bowl final two weeks ago, perplexed the national titleholder today with a variety of strokes, many of which were so well placed that Doeg was out of striking distance of the ball.

DOEG'S SLUMP.

Doeg's slump after his unbeatable march in the first two grueling sets worked up as the suddenness with which Vines returned to top form. For that segment of the match Doeg played with a steadiness that made it appear certain he would avenge his defeat in the Longwood bowl event.

At the opening of the third set, however, Vines unleashed an attack at this stage of the play, Doeg who was not alternating low volleys with unreturnable smashes. Feeling a seemingly apparent victory gradually slipping from his grasp, Doeg softened his shots in an attempt to retard Vines' pace.

The champion's maneuver did not have the desired effect and Vines kept on playing invincibly scoring points freely with powerfully hit backhand drives.

The turning point of the match came in the tenth game of the fourth set. At this stage of the play, Doeg was leading 5 and 4 in games and won the first two points from Vines' service in the tenth. Employing his powerful backhand stroke, the Pasadena youngster pulled the match out of the fire by winning the next four points to take the game.

Both finalists played sterling tennis in the first two sets. Doeg was playing his best tennis of the year. Even though Vines' strong backhand play was not working effectively he was getting better with his straight, bullet-like shots to Doeg's baselin.

SLOWLY TAKES LEAD.

Suddenly finding his backhand stroke in the third set Vines slowly won the first two points from Doeg who was growing weary from the terrific pace. Vines was indefatigable.

Tiring from Vines' change of pace, Doeg played a decisive game in the last set but was outmatched by his younger opponent's assortment of shots.

The women's doubles title was carried off by Josephine Crutchfield, of Santa Ana, California, and Mrs. John Van Ryn, of Philadelphia, who won by a score of 6-7, 0-6, 6-4 over Bernice Levi, of Rye, N. Y., and Mrs. Laurence A. Harper, of Oakland, California.

Mr. and Mrs. John Van Ryn gained the final round of mixed doubles by defeating Penelope Anderson, Richmond, Va., and Bruce Barnes, Austin, Texas, 6-3, 6-4.

The other finalists will be Vines and Miss Crutchfield, who eliminated Helen Jacobs, of Berkeley, Cal., and Gregory Mangin, of Newark, N. J., 8-6, 6-4.

Finals Are Reached In Paper Tourney

Larry Caudill and Roy Fuss, two members of the Journal editorial staff, will meet Monday or Tuesday on the West End Club course for the 1931 Atlanta newspaper golf championship.

Caudill advanced to the finals with a surprising 8-7 victory over Billy Jones, while Fuss eliminated Linton Hopkins, 4-3, Friday afternoon.

The results follow: First Flight—Larry Caudill beat Billy Jones, 8-7; Roy Fuss beat Linton Hopkins, 4-3.

Second Flight—Gibby Watts beat Haynes McFadden, 5-4.

Fourth Flight—Martin Luther beat Ralph McGill, 5-4.

Fifth Flight—Alfred Bartlett beat Roy Fuss, 6-5.

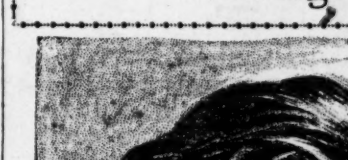

Alabama "Skeeters" Shoot Here Today

North Birmingham skeet shooters will honor guests this afternoon at the local skeet traps in a special program of 50 birds in the team race and practice rounds which are open to any shotgun enthusiast.

Skeet shooting was designed to help the shooter who does not have time to go hunting often enough to know how to handle his gun. The skeet experts are glad to give instruction in the proper ways of gun pointing and so forth.

The southeastern skeet champion and his associates and southern and southwestern skeet team championship matches will be held in Birmingham on September 5 and 6.

TILDEN SERIES TO BE REVIVED ON STAR TOUR

Jack Curley Seen as Promoter; French Hopes Hard Hit.

PARIS, July 31.—(AP)—The professional tennis promoter, who received a valuable addition today when Henri Cochet, world's ranking amateur player, announced he would turn professional about the middle of September.

Cochet's announcement, made to some of his friends, was not much of a surprise to the tennis world.

As the result of Cochet's decision, tennis fans may look forward to another renewal of the famous Tilden-Cochet battles of amateur days. The rivalry probably will be revived on French soil, as Big Bill is scheduled to arrive in France the latter part of September.

CURLEY TO SIGN.

Jack Curley, New York wrestling and professional tennis promoter, who signed Tilden and Frank Hunter when they left the amateur ranks last winter, is in France and is expected to get Cochet's name on a contract within the next few days.

Although refusing to make any definite announcement, Cochet has often intimated during the last few weeks that he was seriously considering turning his fame into lucrative financial channels. Tentative plans include an extensive tour of the United States next year after, and probably Vincent Richards and Karel Kozeluh.

Cochet's retirement from the amateur ranks strikes a severe blow at France's hopes of retaining the Davis cup for another year. Since he joined with Rene Lacoste and Jean Borotra to form the "Three Musketeers" and won the trophy from the United States in 1927, the 30-year-old racket star has been the mainstay of the French team.

THE BIG GUN.

With Lacoste ill and Borotra slowing up, Cochet has been practically the entire team the last two years, winning both of his singles matches and pairing with either Borotra or Jacques Brugnon to win the doubles.

Cochet has been playing tennis since he was 7 years old, but it was not until 1922 that he became a prominent figure in international tournaments. Within three years after winning the military championship of France in 1921, he won the world's covered court title in both doubles and singles at St. Moritz, captured the world's hard court title at Brussels; won the French Davis cup team. In 1923 he won France's only Davis cup match, defeating Pat O'Hara Wood, of Australia.

It was not until 1926, however, that he rose to international heights and that after he had lost to Borotra at Wimbledon.

GREAT CAMPAIGN.

He defeated both Lacoste and Vincent Richards in the French championships, in 1926, and the Japanese, in the Davis cup play, and then surprised the tennis world by whipping Tilden to win the American national singles title.

Tilden defeated him when France won the Davis cup for the first time in 1927, but since that defeat he has proved unbeatable in the challenge rounds. He whipped both Tilden and John Hennessey, and the following year turned back Tilden again, and George Lott. Last year he repeated his 1929 victories over Tilden and Lott. He also played in the doubles in all three years, losing only one match and that to Johnny Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison, of the United States.

As his final gesture in the Davis cup play he defeated Bunny Austin and Fred Perry, of Great Britain, in the final. He also played in the doubles with John Hennessey, and the following year turned back Tilden again, and George Lott. Last year he repeated his 1929 victories over Tilden and Lott. He also played in the doubles in all three years, losing only one match and that to Johnny Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison, of the United States.

Twin Bills Are Set In National League

NEW YORK, July 31.—(AP)—The New York Giants head the National league field in the number of double-headers announced today for the past two years ago, goes out to meet Charles (Chick) Evans, a former titleholder, at 10:35, Dr. O. F. Williams, of Portland, Oregon, former member of the Walker cup team, and George Voigt, of Mammoth, N. J., take to the fairways at 11:45.

The 32 double-headers for the 36 holes qualify for the match play, which starts Wednesday.

Americus Defeats Cordele Nine, 4-1

AMERICUS, Ga., July 31.—The Americus Cardinals won the final game of the Southwest Georgia league season here this afternoon, beating back the Cordele Bulldogs, second-half champions, by a score of 4 and 1. Errorless fielding backed the pitching of Witt and Parrish. Americus right-hander and southpaw.

Witt went to the bench in the fifth, and Parrish carried on to give 12 four hits and no tallies. The Bulldogs used two pitchers, Farrow giving up to Preacher Bennett in the eighth.

A brilliant example of pulling out of a hole was served up by the Cards when Cordele was retired scoreless in the second after the bases were loaded with none down. Two plays to the plate by Witt and Todd and a player caught by Hines attempting a home steal turned the tide.

The complete Arlington handicap field and weights follows: Gallant Knight, 120; Minotaur, 103; Sun Beau, 128; Satan Spar, 137; The Nut, 112; Plucky Fly, 100; Quarter Deck, 104; Spinach, 114; Paul Bunyan, 110; Mike Hall, 116.

Amateurs To Clash In Almand Twin Bill

A Sunday afternoon twin bill in which four of the best amateur players in the city will perform will be held at Almand park tomorrow.

Kirkwood Baptist and Northwest Atlanta will clash in the first game, with first at 1:15 o'clock.

Almand Park and Southern Railway will meet in the second contest at 3:30 o'clock.

Babe Ruth's Aim From Hotel Room Extinguishes Fire

BOSTON, July 31.—(UP)—"Babe Ruth—baseball's best, expert handball player, fast golfer, writer, and a man of letters"—a failure as a haberdasher, diletante detective, and now volunteer fireman.

The last title was added to the Ruthian list today just before Babe left Hotel Brunswick for Fenway park, where the Yankees were to play the Red Sox.

Ruth was sitting in his fifth-floor room, chatting with pitcher Charlie Ruffing and Arthur Crowley, son of Boston's police superintendent, when smoke wafted in through an open window.

Babe quickly discovered the fire, in an awning two floors below. And he extinguished it with several well-aimed pitchers of water before hotel employees could get to the scene.

"I only hope that none of you guys were throwing cigar butts out the window," Ruth said to Ruffing and Crowley later.

"You were the only one in the room that was smoking," Ruffing replied. And the home run king fanned.

New Stage, Screen Programs At Atlanta Theaters Today

"Politics," the funniest of all the funny pictures in which Marie Dressler and Polly Moran have starred together, opens its Atlanta run at the Fox theater today. The feature is the first of the "August parade of hits" which Manager Carter Barron has secured to give his patrons the greatest month of screen entertainment they have ever known.

"Politics" is the story of the women of a town who set out to defeat an unsatisfactory mayor, clean out the gangsters and vice racketeers and generally make the community a better place to live in. Marie is the woman's candidate for mayor and Polly is the leader of her campaign. Karen Morley and William Bakewell supply the love interest.

Marie is elected, but only after all the women of the town go on strike and refuse to perform their household or matrimonial duties unless their husbands "vote right."

On the stage the Fox offers "Golden West," one of the most spectacular of the Fanchon & Marco ideas. There is another Bobby Jones golf feature, Enrico Lettie and the orchestra, Al Evans at the organ and some exceptional short screen subjects.

"SMILING LIEUTENANT"

ON GEORGIA SCREEN—Bringing Marie Chevalier back to the screen after his European tour in another rollicking romance which combines all the attractive features of his former screen successes, "The Smiling Lieutenant" comes today as Keith's Georgia's most important screen attraction in months.

Two gorgeous ladies, the brunet Claudette Colbert, the blonde Miriam Hopkins, keep things lively for the lively Frenchman, whose voice, recently given to thrilling radio audiences, will have full opportunity to express his personality in song. Charlie Ruggles, the joyous inebriate

HELEN TWELVETREES STARS IN CAPITOL FILM

The latest Helen Twelvetrees feature, "A Woman of Experience," based on the play titled "The Registered Woman," opens for a week's run at the Capitol, starting today. It boasts a cast including William Bakewell, Lew Cody, H. B. Warner, C. Henry Gordon, Nance O'Neil, George Fawcett and Franklin Pangborn. Harry Joe Brown was the director.

JUDGE DENIES WRIT TO "JAKE THE BARBER"

CHICAGO, July 31.—(AP)—Federal Judge Louis FitzHenry refused today to issue a writ of habeas corpus on petition of John (Jake the Barber) Factor, holding that the United States supreme court had ruled earlier that Factor was in a similar case.

Factor is wanted for trial in London on a charge involving the alleged swindling of English investors of more than $5,000,000 in fraudulent stock manipulation and sales.

REOPENING OF BANKS TO PRESENT PROBLEM

German Financiers To Guard Against Stampede of Withdrawals

BERLIN, July 31.—(AP)—The broad outlines of the government's offensive against the more acute problems of Germany's economic crisis began to emerge today.

It was announced that the Danubian and National bank, which recently collapsed through the co-operation of the government, had been reorganized and that the state government of Saxony had issued an emergency decree not only legalizing a merger of the Saxo-Bank with the Allgöme Deutsche Creditanstalt, but at the same time giving the state bank blanket authority to make similar arrangements with other banks.

It was made clear that the national government and probably all the state governments soon would be standing behind the most important financial institutions and that any widespread stampede of depositors when normal bank payments are resumed next week would amount to a run on the government itself.

At the same time, Oliver Sprague, American adviser to the Bank of England, said in a widely quoted interview printed by the Associated Press that the acid test will come in the behavior of the German people when bank payments are resumed. Their actions, he said, will show whether the German people still have faith in themselves.

He spoke optimistically of the outcome of the international bankers' conference which is surveying Germany's needs at the suggestion of the recent seven-power conference in London.

Private bankers in Berlin added their share to the constructive news by announcing the formal organization of the "Berliner Lombard Kasse," which, in co-operation with the recently-formed Acceptance and Guarantee Institute of the big banks, will have the task of preserving the liquidity of the smaller private banks.

PRESIDENT'S PROTECTOR AWARDED PROMOTION

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(AP)—Walter G. Ferguson, for 14 years a member of the White House secret service detail, has been promoted to be the chief of the Providence (R. I.) district of the secret service.

Ferguson will assume his new duties on August 15. He came to the White House in July, 1917, and has been a part of the personal bodyguard of all the presidents since that time.

Ferguson accompanied President Wilson to Paris in 1919 when the latter attended the peace conference. He also went with the chief executive into Italy and has been with Presidents Harding, Coolidge and Hoover on every major trip.

2 ACCUSED IN MURDER OF FLORIDA RECLUSE

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 31.—(AP)—Dozier and Walter Higginbotham, Dinsmore, were charged with first-degree murder at the conclusion of a coroner's inquest late today into the ax slaying of J. F. Scannell, aged recluse, at his Dinsmore poultry farm July 16.

Following the inquest, B. J. Scannell, son of the dead man, and Herbert Taylor, both of Tampa, and Otis Higginbotham, Dinsmore, all arrested in connection with the investigation, were ordered released. Inquest testimony absolved them of any blame.

COLORADO FUEL & IRON REDUCES BASIC WAGE

DENVER, Col., July 31.—(AP)—A reduction in the basic wage scale affecting several thousand Colorado coal miners has been announced by the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company.

John O. Hamilton, secretary of the C. F. & I., said the action of the company was taken with great reluctance. Under the new scale the basic wage will be $5.25 a day, a cut of $1.27 a day.

"Better Times" Shown In Tampa Cigar Sales

TAMPA, Fla., July 31.—(AP)—If the price of cigars is a business barometer, things are looking up, said customs officials here.

Of the 32,991,678 cigars made in local factories during July, 14,125,000 were to retail at from 10 to 15 cents, against 13,611,000 at 5 cents or less. Manufacturers recently have been turning out more 5-centers than any other grade, especially during the last year.

Production of two for 15 cents was 688,000; at 15 to 20 cents apiece 4,510,000 were made, and 65,165 will retail above 20 cents. A few of them will bring a dollar each.

Communist Leaning Confessed by Shaw After Soviet Trip

WARSAW, Poland, July 31.—(AP)—George Bernard Shaw, arriving here tonight on his way home from a nine-day trip into Russia, said, "I was a communist before Lenin, and now that I have seen Russia I am more of a communist than ever."

Lady Astor was traveling with Shaw's party.

In Russia there was no lack of food, Shaw told interviewers. The workers were happy, he said, and working for the common good.

The Irish playwright said he did not believe the five-year plan would collapse.

Lady Astor said she was enchanted with Soviet Russia, which "is the best-run country on earth."

Remarking on armaments in other countries, she said Russia would not act aggressively. All nations should work for peace, she said, and corridors between countries should be internationalized.

AMERICANS' CAPITAL IN MEXICO IMPERILED

Mixed Claims Commission Nears End of Life With Tasks Undone

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(AP)—The Mexico-United States general claims commission apparently will die without satisfactorily ending its work unless renewed before August 31.

Upwards of $600,000,000 in private American claims against Mexico are imperiled as the commission, after a troubled history, enters the final month of its legal life.

Fred K. Nielsen, of Nebraska, the American member, brought about an interruption of the last sessions of the group by objecting to procedure followed by his Mexican and Panamanian

Man 'Sells' Wife But Pays 'Buyer' To Close Deal

CHICAGO, July 31.—(AP)—On the face of a strange document handed to Judge Edgar A. Jonas today it appeared that John Los had disposed of Anna, his wife, for the sum of $25.

The 23-year-old mother of two children, immigrant from Poland five years ago, showed the paper to Judge Jonas and implored him to prevent its execution.

The odd "bill of sale" read: "Mr. John Los, willing to sell his wife to Mr. Steve Lavinovich."

Below the signature: "Paid, $25." Lavinovich and Los were haled into court and Judge Jonas found the bill was misleading.

Los had not sold his wife. He had paid his friend Lavinovich $100 to take her. The $25 was an initial payment to bind the bargain.

The two men are working out $100 fines.

Florida Bank Robbed By Cranking Bandits

PORT MYERS, Fla., July 31.—(AP)—The Bank of Labelle, at Labelle, near here, was held up by two young men and robbed of about $8,000 in currency at 1 p. m. today.

The robbers also took a quantity of travelers' checks and a city of Labelle bond of $5,000 denomination.

The robbers fled in an old automobile which they had to crank after leaving the bank.

FIVE PUBLIX THEATERS SOLD TO FLORIDA CHAIN
NEW YORK, July 31.—(AP)—Frank Rogers, assistant to the president of Consolidated Theaters, Inc. of Florida, today announced the firm had purchased a chain of five Florida motion picture theaters from the Publix Theaters Corporation for $2,000,000.

In effect, Rogers said, the sale will be a friendly shift in administration for the Publix company already owns approximately 50 per cent of the Consolidated company's stock.

ARNOLD-M'CULLOUGH RITES TAKE PLACE AT ST. MARK'S

Weddings, Visitors Claim Interest of Society Today

Weddings and visitors claim the social spotlight today, with special interest centering in the marriage of Miss Margaret Arnold and Gresham McCullough, which will be solemnized with impressive dignity at 5 o'clock this afternoon, assembling fashionable members of society in St. Mark's Methodist church on Peachtree street, to witness the ceremony to be performed by Dr. Wallace Rogers, life-long friend of the family of the lovely bride-elect. The list of prominent visitors coming here for the wedding includes J. M. Arnold and Craig Arnold and Marshall Arnold, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Craig Coffield, of Asheville, N. C., grandfather of the bride-elect; Mrs. C. B. Rucker, of Greenville, S. C.; Romane Barnes and Gus Hoke Donaldson, of Greenville, S. C.

The arrival of Mrs. Ulric S. Atkinson and her daughter, pretty Miss Palmer Atkinson, erstwhile Atlantans, who have resided in Montclair, N. J., for several years, will be the inspiration for a series of informal social events. They are visiting Mrs. Ernest E. Dallas, sister of Mrs. Atkinson, and will also be guests of Mrs. Wickliff Goldsmith at her home on Habersham road, before returning to Montclair. Miss Atkinson is in the sub-deb set of society, and is being urged to remain here to take her place in next winter's debutante coterie. She has spent every summer in Europe traveling under the chaperonage of her mother, Mrs. Atkinson, and is cultured and charming. Another former Atlantan, Mrs. Shelby Myrick, has come up from Savannah to visit her sister, Mrs. Russell Dodson, at her home on Argonne drive, and as the former Miss Mary Robinson, will be pleasantly recalled by her host of friends. Mrs. Dudley Golding, the former Miss Georgia Rice, will be joined today by Mr. Rice, and they will be feted guests of their mother, Mrs. Charles F. Rice, at her Peachtree road residence.

Stag Party Honors Fielding Russell.

Fielding Russell was honor guest at the stag supper given by John Minor Estes and Ernest Howard at their home on Clifton road Thursday evening. Mr. Russell, who is the popular young son of Judge and Mrs. Richard R. Russell Sr., is to be married to Miss Virginia Boyce Wilson Monday, August 3.

Supper was served buffet style. The guests were Governor Richard R. Russell Jr., Judge Richard R. Russell Sr., Senator Hugh Peterson, Leeman Anderson, R. L. Russell, Virlyn Booth, Dr. Evert E. Clark, Fred C. Mason, Alex Russell, John M. Estes Jr., John W. Crenshaw, Donald Wilson Jr., Harold E. Roland, S. P. Hoyt, Langley Shearer, Walter B. Clark, Charles Mason, William Mason, John Estes III, John Minor Estes Sr., and Ernest Howard.

Miss Anne Wynne Celebrates Birthday.

Miss Judy Morgan Honored At Breakfast and Bridge

Miss Judy Morgan, of Columbia, S. C., is being delightfully entertained at a series of parties during her visit to Atlanta. This morning Miss Starr will entertain at a breakfast and bridge party at her home on Seminole avenue as a complimentary gesture to her guest. The guests will include Misses Morgan, Catherine Hartman, Charlotte Myers, Clara Mitchell, McConnell, Betty Shaw, Mary Elizabeth Warren and Mrs. Ralph McGill. Tomorrow afternoon Mrs. McGill will be hostess at a small tea at her home on Seminole avenue in honor of Miss Starr and her visitor. The guests on this occasion will include only a small group of Miss Starr's intimate friends. Yesterday afternoon Miss Catherine Hartman entertained at a swimming party honoring Miss Morgan. Thursday evening Mrs. L. K. Starr gave a spaghetti dinner at her home complimenting her daughter's visitor. Other informal affairs will honor this attractive guest before she departs for her home in a week.

Social News of Varied Interest

West Palm Beach, Fla. The invited guests included immediate relatives and close friends of the honor guests.

Phillips-Parker Wedding Rites Solemnized in Fort Pierce, Fla.

FORT PIERCE, Fla., July 31.—and valley lilies. Otis Parker was the bridegroom's best man. Following the ceremony a reception was given the bridal party by Mr. and Mrs. Otis Parker. Receiving were Mr. and Mrs. Otis Parker, Miss Floy Gresham, Mr. and Mrs. J. Parks Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark Parker, of Fort Pierce. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. C. Fountain at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis R. Parker, in Fort Pierce, Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The home was decorated throughout with red roses, lilies and other native flowers and fern entwined with coral vine which formed an archway at the doors.

Preceding the ceremony a program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. S. F. Overstreet who sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. M. B. Parker, who also played the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin." During the ceremony "To a Wild Rose" was played.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, J. Parks Phillips. She wore a wedding gown of shell pink mouseline de soie made along princess lines, the skirt having a circular flounce embroidered in shell pink and blue. Her bouquet was a shower of sweetheart roses and baby-breath.

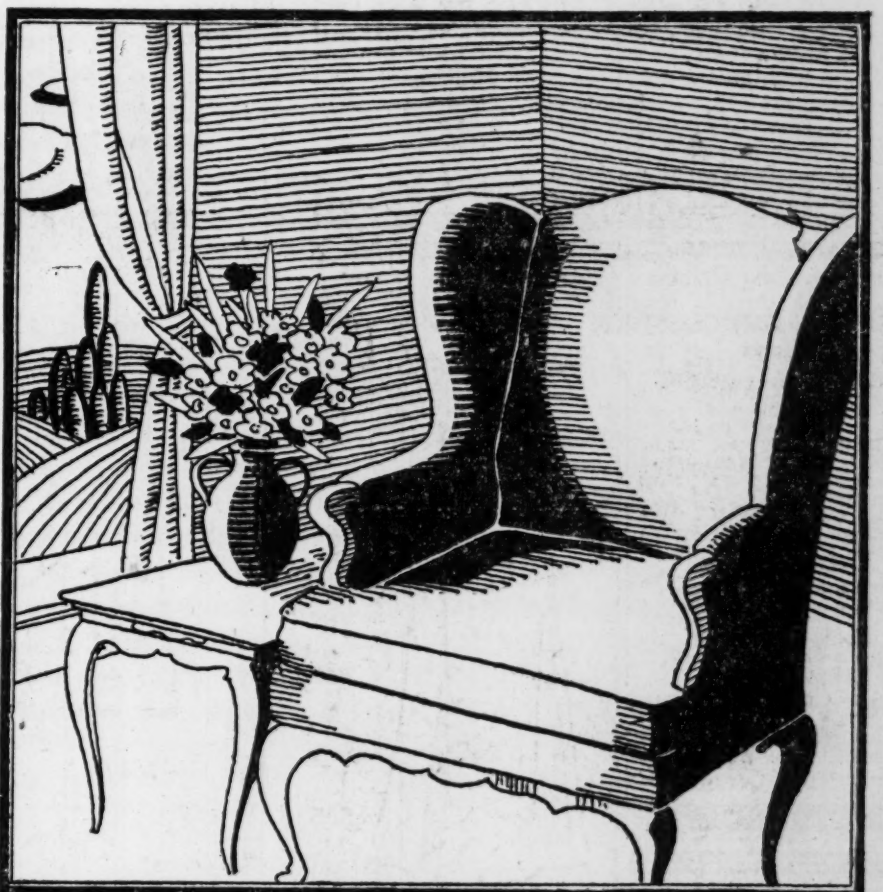

Miss Floy Gresham, of Atlanta, maid of honor, wore a frock of embroidered pink organdie with pastel shades of ribbon caught at the natural waistline. Her flowers were a shoulder bouquet of Columbia roses and white lilies. Otis Parker was the bridegroom's best man.

Little Miss Willis Gives Piano Recital

Mrs. S. S. Fowler, of West End, presented her pupil, Little Miss Louise Willis, in a piano recital Thursday at her home at 861 Beecher street, in celebration of her eighth birthday. The program included the first movement of Mozart's Sonata No. 9, "Joyous Farmer," by Schumann; "Butterflies," by Wright; "On the Te at Sweet Brier," "Indian Dance in the Firelight" and "Swallows."

Frank Miller Jr., 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, of Holderness street, a talented guitar pupil of Cecil White, assisted on the program. Children's games followed the program, and the young pianist cut a beautiful birthday cake.

Little Miss Willis is the talented young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Willis. Invited to hear her and participate in her birthday celebration were her mother, Mrs. Willis, Albert Willis, Edgar Willis, Mrs. S. S. Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Wright, Mrs. R. J. Tilman and her son, Bobby Tilman; Mrs. E. L. Butler, Amy Varnadoe, Joyce Gilleland, Rosemary Moore, Mary McDonald, Ford Smith, David Smith, Mrs. Frank Miller and her son, Frank Miller Jr.

Woman's Club Gives At Fresco Reception

Atlanta Woman's Club entertained Thursday at an at fresco reception given by the club to its officers and members of the representative bodies of the house and senate of the Georgia legislature and their families. Mrs. William P. Dunn, president of the club and gracious hostess, received the guests on the lawn of the club.

Receiving with Mrs. Dunn were Mrs. Thornton M. Fincher, past president of the club; Governor Riedel, Russell, Judge and Mrs. Russell, May or James L. Key, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ennis, Mr. and Mrs. W. Cecil Neill, Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. George Bland, Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, Mrs. Victor Kriegerhaber, Mrs. Odie C. Poundstone, Mrs. Anne Bates Walsh, Mrs. W. F. Trenary and the officers of the club. Members of the executive board assisted in receiving the guests.

Tables were placed on the lawn and punch was served from flower-embellished bowls by Misses Edwina Turner, Marian Kriegerhaber, Elizabeth Whitley, Marguerite Scott and Frances Anne Dunn.

Culbertson on Contract

BY ELY CULBERTSON,
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

An Interesting Grand Coup

The grand coup at Bridge is an interesting and spectacular play. It might be described briefly as discarding a superfluous trump on a winning card in the Dummy hand. The purpose of the play is, of course, to shorten the trumps in the Declarer hand to the same number as those held by the right hand adversary and to place the lead in Dummy so that on the twelfth trick a card may be led through him and his otherwise winning trump picked up.

The play is comparatively rare, not so much because the trump situation, in which the Declarer finds himself, is unusual because of his trump, as unusual because these situations are not generally coupled with ability to lead winners from the Dummy and find the Dummy rich enough in re-entries to permit re-entry at the critical moment.

This hand was held in a rubber game, in which Mrs. Culbertson was seated North and I was playing South.

(Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♥	Pass	2NT	Pass
2♥(1)	Pass	Pass	Pass

1—North's jump bid of three no-trumps has shown a minimum of 3 honor-tricks, which must include at least two of the Aces in the playing suits. With the top card and length in the heart suit, South feels justified in bidding for a Slam.

The Play.

West opened the spade Knave and it was at once apparent to South that the only danger of losing more than 11 tricks was the possibility of four hearts to the Knave in either the East or West hands. The play of the hand is so interesting that it is given in detail.

STYLES BY ANNETTE

THE SUN TAN VOGUE DID THIS.

Today's model is enticingly cool with its low-waisted back, crossed by suspender straps. And note how the straps are brought round the front creating a partial belt effect. It's a slumping idea, and combines with the vertical line of the inverted pleat at the center-front of the skirt, lending a slim line to its wearer. The back of the skirt is also pressed into an inverted pleat.

It's as simple as A, B, C to make it.

For toms, it's adorable in pink cotton pique. And the small cost will be a revelation.

Style No. 595 may be had in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20 years. It takes but 3 yards of 35-inch material to make it for the 16-year size.

White cotton mesh, pale blue linen, white flax washable crepe silk and light green shantung are stunning for this model.

Our large Fashion Magazine shows the latest Paris styles for adults and children. Also modern embroidery and intricate lessons in sewing.

Price of book 10 cents.

Price of pattern 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

1—East has J 7 of hearts and South Q 9 8 4. North and West have no more. The only chance now is to get rid of 4 and 8 of hearts by ruffing in twice and, at the same time, maneuver for a position in which the twelfth lead will come from North through East's J 7 of hearts and up to South's Q 9 of hearts tenace.

2—First step in the preparation for Grand Coup.

3—The play of the Queen and Knave of diamonds followed by a low diamond would have been fatal. East, when unable eventually to follow diamond leads, discards a club, preventing South from getting in North's hand with a club re-entry.

4—A beautiful play. North needs two re-entries for the Grand Coup—one in order to ruff another club and another re-entry in order to lead eventually through East's J 7 of hearts up to the Q 9 of hearts. Hence the "unnecessary" finesse.

5—The Grand Coup position is established, checkmating East at the twelfth and thirteenth leads.

Today's Pointer.
Notrump Valuation.

In notrump bids the winning of tricks with low cards depends largely on the number of honor-tricks held, which are the indispensable re-entries and stoppers. Therefore the count of honor-tricks alone in the hand will automatically include a proportionate amount of low-card tricks. As outlined in the Rule of Eight the ratio of honor-tricks to low-card tricks is roughly 8:5. From this basic idea any player can logically work up a table of notrump bids, Raises and Takeouts.

TALKING IT OVER

BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

A thoughtful man proposes an interesting question on this wise: "My wife remarked at the breakfast table this morning, 'Mr. B's wife doesn't do a thing; she is on the go all the time.' This man and his wife are comfortably fixed; he holds an average position, lives in an average neighborhood, among working people, as we do. The implication of my wife's remark is: 'This man loves his wife, that's the reason she has nothing to do.' I question the wife's love for her husband when she idles her time away and does nothing to help during these depressing times when the husband is under constant strain to live up to the old standard and make ends meet. Is it right to measure a man's love for his wife by his willingness to let her sit and do nothing?"

"For the mother of five children and the wife of a man whose income is below the $250 mark, what is reasonable work? What sort of help should that woman give her husband? Should not five able-bodied children, three of whom are in their teens, assist in making the house a home—place where one can sit down comfortably and enjoy being at home?"

"I believe this question bothers others as it does me. Many of us have been accustomed to the better things of life and during this depression have had to rip back a few steps and deprive our families of some of the things they have previously enjoyed. The question sums itself up in this one: 'If a woman loves a man won't she buckle down and help him bear the strain and burden of this depression?'"

Then there are some suggestions here, or intimations, which are equally important. The first is: a woman's love partakes of her nature and her character and there are no general rules and tests of love for that reason. Possibly that statement by telling a little story. It is a little drama that I have seen enacted only recently.

There is a woman who was raised in the lap of luxury. She has never known what it was to do without anything she wanted and she has never been slow about indicating what she wanted. She is married to a man she adores. She thinks he is perfect. There is nothing she wouldn't do for him or her two children. The husband is devoted to her and would give her anything he could give her, at any cost to himself. But he is one of the inhibited creatures who keeps his worries to himself. He never discusses his business at home. He never tells his wife of business reverses, and he has had them. His business is one that has been at a standstill during this period. That wife, who has a fondness for collecting antiques, has continued to make the rounds of the shops in the large city where they live. She has seen what she wanted, bought it, and taken it home for her distraught husband to admire.

No one who knew her could doubt that woman's love for her husband. The pity of it is that her love partakes of her selfish, spoilt nature. She is too firmly set in her habits of thought to change. A woman's love is part of her. Or, take the example of a stingy man who won't give his wife what he can afford to give her. We all know many such men whose love for their wives we cannot doubt. Their love partakes of their stingy natures and love doesn't change them.

The last suggestion is that a woman's love is nine-tenths responsible for the attitude the children take toward the home, its upkeep, its atmosphere. She trains them. In her milk they take her tendencies. In her example they find their standard of conduct. If she is irresponsible toward the comfort and order of the home, they are, too. If she is a thorough homemaker and housekeeper, they follow her example. If her interests lie outside or beyond the home, theirs will, too.

So, Mr. Correspondent, thank you for setting us to thinking and may you and your wife profit by the thoughts you express and the others that you "feel after, if haply you may find them."

INSTALLMENT XIV.

And she began to ask herself unavoidable and unanswerable questions: Why had Lowndes let her in for this insufferable concealment? Why hadn't he told those boys in the next room the simple truth: that she, his promised wife, had come here tonight on a matter of business. They would have understood. They knew her and wouldn't dream of questioning her word. "No body could misunderstand," Why, then, had Lowndes allowed her to be hidden as though her presence must be concealed, as though it were wrong for her to be found with him? It was intolerable, it put her in a false and absurd position. Her starchy young honesty, her pride, her personal dignity recoiled and recoiled, as though from scalding water. She began to suffer then the first pang of all the pain that she must suffer because of Lowndes Jennings.

Would those visitors never go? Presently she ventured to peep through the keyhole to see if by any chance they were making some movement of departure. Then she heard him speak in his clear and penetrating voice:

"So you're going to the Bahamas with them? And then the date is to be announced? I know that girl meant business, Lowndes. The first time I saw her with you. My aunt, you're a lucky devil!"

"I don't know what you mean," said the good-looking Lowndes, gruffly. "Say, you fellows, Lowndes don't know what I mean!" jeered the other. "Well, old thing, for your enlightenment I'll say I mean wedding bells—white satin and orange blossoms, beautiful bridesmaids, tables of persimmons, a whole of a wedding feast, rice, old shoes, and old man Reinert looking the bills—that's what I mean, as well you know! Let me repeat, you're a lucky devil, Lowndes! Not every deserving young man comes by a really pretty Miss Crossin. And he laughed lightly, and sipped his glass. "And I sincerely trust you're good enough for her, old scout. That young lady deserves the best."

"Any young lady I marry will deserve the best. And I also hope I'll be good enough for her. At least, I'll try to be," said Lowndes, gruffly. Suppose Sally, sitting there behind the door of Eph's room, did hear?

"The report is true, then, Lowndes? I've been hearing it for some time. I heard the announcement was imminent. I have reason to believe that the lady's family are quite aware of the rumor, and they have never troubled to deny it."

Lowndes concealed his annoyance and apprehension as best he could. In his mind he imagined them all heartily for blundering so, but he managed to reply with smiling nonchalance: "What's the good of my saying anything? All of you seem to know very much more of my private affairs than I do."

"O, it's true enough, the rumor of Lowndes wedding-to-be," said Rodney Hall deliberately. "Do you deny it, Lowndes?"

"I don't deny that I hope to be married after a while," said Lowndes gently. "That was a good answer for you."

"And to Miss Reinert?" Lowndes fixed his eyes upon the speaker disapprovingly. "I am mentioning no names," he said coldly.

"You do so hate to boast, don't you?" said Rodney, with mockery. "But I know the report is true. The girl is young, pretty, healthy, wealthy. She has to pay a price for all that—a thumping big price! Wherefore, Lowndes is going to lead her to the altar."

"Don't be such a jealous ass, Rodney," said Sanford Hope sturdily. "If Lowndes marries the young lady, she'll get her money's worth. Ten to one she makes her a good husband."

"Twenty to one she makes him be one," said Rodney, and laughed. "She'll be boss of the ranch. Ten to one she makes her a good husband."

Lowndes said nothing, but his expression showed that he was displeased. Mr. Hope hastily changed the conversation, and as Lowndes still pleaded a headache, and really seemed a bit restive and nervous, within the hour the party left. Had Sally, by any chance, heard what that blithering ass had said? The door had been closed, of course, but then, Hall had the sort of voice that would pierce granite, much less wood!

Sally had heard. Some words she had missed, but she had been sitting with her head leaning against the bolted door, and she heard enough to learn that people were saying Lowndes was to marry Miss Gertrude Reinert. He was going to the Bahamas in the Reinert yacht. He and the wealthy young lady were very good pals. He had told her so. She felt no unease.

When the young men had gone, and the last sound of their descending footsteps had died away, Sally opened the door and stepped into the living room. She had on her hat and carried her coat over her arm.

"I sat with my head leaning against the door, so I'd know when they left. I couldn't help hearing a good deal of what they said," she said directly. "They seem to think you're engaged to Miss Reinert, don't they, Lowndes? I recognized Rodney Hall's voice, naturally."

"Praying ass! He certainly loves to gossip, doesn't he?"

"Does he know Miss Reinert very well?"

"Will you consider me a gossip, too, if I say that I was told he had pretensions to Miss Reinert and was a dismissed suitor?"

"I wish I could!" said Lowndes, sincerely. "I have gotten myself into a false position, Lowndes. I didn't realize it at first. I had to sit there quite a while, you know. It made me think, and I thought it best to tell you the exact truth. That I'd come to look at that glass, and besides, that you and I are engaged?"

"My darling, I couldn't think clearly," he said with every air of honesty. "I could only think of you. I was afraid for you, Sally. I didn't know who they might be, but I simply couldn't bear the idea of the slightest gossip about you. I—I am horribly sensitive and jealous where you are concerned, Sally. I love you so much, my queen!"

He was so handsome, he spoke with so much feeling, his magnetic gray eyes looked at her with so much adoration, that the girl's heart that loved him melted. When he held out his arms to her, hungrily, she walked into them.

The downstairs bell didn't ring, but there came a peremptory knock at the door which opened upon the veranda. Eph came out of the pantry, glanced dubiously at his master, and moved slowly forward toward the door. But Sally stood motionless beside Lowndes. No matter what happened, or who came, she would sit no more in the outer room. Eph opened the door. Mr. Sam Winstead walked into the room.

At sight of her, baffled, her coat again on her arm, he bowed with an easy, smiling grace. If he was surprised to see her there, he did not show it. But his eyes met Lowndes' with a swordlike directness.

Lowndes' polite greeting was not without a hint of surprise. Plainly, he had not expected this visitor, and he was astonished to see him. At the same time he wished him to the devil—he had not reason to like Sam Winstead.

He wondered, with an impatient anger, if this night's unlucky misadventures would never end. What in the name of ten thousand devils brought this fellow here? Was every unworldly person he knew to be here in upon him tonight? He understood, acutely, that Sam Winstead was one of the men who knew more about him than any man should know about another. Sam Winstead had been present at the most unfortunate and humiliating incident in Lowndes' career, and although Winstead had not revealed his knowledge and had remained absolutely silent, Lowndes felt that he was inimical. He had quietly but consistently avoided all further contact with the handsome and popular Mr. Jennings whenever it could be done without arousing comment.

MILITIAN PLANS ECONOMIC FIGHT

Chairman Expected To Attempt To Force Report Through Council.

Despite a scant possibility that a report of the finance committee of council regarding pay roll slashes by elimination of employees will reach the council floor Monday afternoon, there is every probability that Alderman G. Everett Millican, chairman of a special committee recommending cuts and economies to effect $500,000 annually in savings, will attempt to force through council the committee recommendations.

The finance committee Friday held two sessions and finally adjourned in the afternoon with the intention of holding another meeting to "take under advisement" the problem of a general and impersonal survey of all departments with a view of effecting economies. This meeting is subject to call of Alderman J. Charlie Murphy, chairman, and possibility that the session will be held before the Monday afternoon meeting was regarded as a possibility.

Decision of the finance committee followed a heated clash between Millican and Clarke Donaldson, chief of construction, during which Donaldson, second department head in the past 24 hours to be heard in the department, and he was permitted to run his department as he saw fit. The Millican committee, scored the Millican committee as "prejudiced and biased." The council recommended slashing of about $100,000 a year from the construction department.

Chief of Police James L. Beavers Thursday night demanded that the police committee "leave this department alone and let me run it" when the first of the council members of a certain patrolman to the federal prohibition enforcement office. A coincidence was that Millican, Murphy and Alvin Harbards are members of the police committee and were at the finance committee session. Donaldson denied emphatically that the construction department is "building up" a "political machine," as charged in the Millican committee report. He scored Millican for not seeking information from the department, but he said he would read the report, he could not determine whether Millican was serious or not, but he came to the conclusion that he was "prejudiced and biased."

"I didn't seek the role of prosecutor," Millican said. "I expected everybody to get with me. I am convinced it is a good thing to carry out the council rolls not only necessary to the conduct of the department. The committee takes back nothing. I still think the reductions made without curtailing the service."

"I oppose a blanket 10 per cent reduction of the salaries of borough employees," he said, "but you can not sit here making time and not cut a thing and expect to avert a real financial disaster." Donaldson denied that any employee of his department is needed. He said the council rolls are not only necessary to the conduct of the department, but he also denied that the borough could save money by letting contracts for sewer work.

Those who remember Beeler Blewins' narrow escape from a serious crash at the Municipal Airport on June 1, when his plane was fouled while turning a pylon, will be interested to know that the F. A. I. pilot's certificate and annual sporting license of George Beeler Blewins, who is flying the old ship, have been suspended for a period of six months by the contest committee of the National Aeronautic Association. Action was taken by the contest committee following the report of a Low Sevier, referee, and Colonel John H. Jettett, assistant referee of the Birmingham air races, which signed the report of the city's new municipal airport, May 30 to June 1. Officials found the Birmingham pilot guilty of unsportsmanlike conduct while flying over the city of Birmingham and of unsportsmanlike attitude toward the officials of the meet.

The official report of the episode, which furnished the principal "thrill" of the three-day contest, was as follows: "Racing in a scheduled event, Pilot Messer violated F. A. I. racing rules by cutting inside and passing another competitor on a pylon and in so doing fouled the plane he endeavored to pass, causing the two crafts to collide in mid-air at an altitude of approximately 200 feet and while they were both in vertical banks. A serious mishap was averted only by quick action on the part of the pilot who, by a sharp turn, slipping his ship up and away from Messer's plane."

Winship Nunnally, prominent Atlanta business man and aviation enthusiast, has been elected governor for Georgia Monday night for the district of the National Aeronautic Association. It was stated here Friday by delegates returning from the annual convention of the association, which was held at the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria, New York, that Messer, editor of Southern Aviation, and Nunnally, were delegates elected by the Aero Club of Atlanta, local chapter of the association, to represent the club and John H. Candler, president of the Blevins Aircraft Corporation, were alternate delegates named. All four delegates were in the city for the pilot who, following the crash, that fine spirit was displayed at the annual session, which was presided over by President Hiram Bingham, United States senator from Connecticut.

Returning to Atlanta with new ideas and stimulated interest, President Draper already has put in motion plans for one of the most active years in the history of the local organization. He said that while in Washington, Nunnally had a talk with Amelia Earhart, during which she expressed her willingness to come to Atlanta early in the fall and address a luncheon meeting of the group. Other well-known figures in aviation are being lined up for speaking engagements, Draper stated.

American Airways, Inc. this morning will open 3,476 additional miles of daily scheduled service, including a new line to Los Angeles, which will give Atlanta 18-hour plane-train connection with New York. The company will open a Cleveland-to-Fort Worth route, bringing the Pacific coast within 48 hours (plane-train) of New York. Fort Worth will be linked to Los Angeles by the southern transcontinental. The American Airways system between Dallas-Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and Amarillo, Texas, will connect the southwest with three transcontinental air lines. The Cleveland-New York route also will tie up with upstate points.

LEA'S TRIAL DELAYED BY SELECTION OF JURY

Bank Conspiracy Cases Expected To Get Under Way Monday.

ASHBURN, N. C., July 31.—(UP)—Bumble court superior court was in session until 7 p. m. today in an effort to complete selection of a jury to try Colonel Luke Lea, Nashville publisher, and three other defendants charged with conspiracy to defraud the Central Bank and Trust Company, of Asheville, closed with $50,000 in public funds.

Ten jurors all from a neighboring county, were in the box at adjournment tonight, and court observers predicted that the remaining two members in the box would be seated early Saturday, after which recess would be taken until Monday.

With Colonel Lea as his son, Luke Lea, Jr., of Asheville, and Wallace B. Davis, president of the closed bank, all charged with manipulating checks through the bank in such manner as to defraud the institution of more than $1,000,000. Defense counsel had exhausted all but three of its challenges at the close of the session, having requested jury members accepted by the state by putting the candidates through rapid questioning concerning their attitudes toward bank failures.

The state also has three challenges left. Forty-seven veniremen had been examined and 77 remained from which the last two jurors will be chosen. The trial has been slow in getting started because of extended preliminary legal skirmishes in which a number of defense motions for postponement, quashing the indictment and other moves were overruled by Judge M. V. Barnhill.

Defense also asked for change of venue and while the request was denied, the trial was adjourned for the night. The grand jury was in session at 10 o'clock, but no action was taken. The grand jury was in session at 10 o'clock, but no action was taken.

Members of the three branches of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce turned out in force Friday night for their first annual outing at Lakewood. More than 300 persons were present and enjoyed a chicken dinner and musical program.

After the repast, a "Tubby" Walton chicken dinner, the members and guests danced to the music of the Blue River Ramblers. Later special entertainment was furnished with "Mike" Benton as master of ceremonies. Lang Howe, young Atlanta, played the banjo and sang and Misses "Snooky" Wooten and Juanita Pascal danced.

Dr. Rayford W. Tharpe, chairman of the arrangements committee, stated that the first annual outing of the chamber was for the purpose of "educating the people of Atlanta to Lakewood," both as an amusement center as well as the scene of the Southeastern fair each year.

As soon as Lieutenant William L. completes his air corps reserve duty training period at Campfield, Stripling plan to set sail for Los Angeles, via American Airways, Inc. Some little time will be spent in the West on a coast-to-coast and then the party will return to Wichita, where Stripling will pick up his repaired plane, overhaul it and fly back to Macon. The six-place ship was damaged in Texas some months ago, when it crashed on a hillside near Macon, and Stripling was forced to essay a landing in a rough, rolling bit of pasture land.

Those who remember Beeler Blewins' narrow escape from a serious crash at the Municipal Airport on June 1, when his plane was fouled while turning a pylon, will be interested to know that the F. A. I. pilot's certificate and annual sporting license of George Beeler Blewins, who is flying the old ship, have been suspended for a period of six months by the contest committee of the National Aeronautic Association. Action was taken by the contest committee following the report of a Low Sevier, referee, and Colonel John H. Jettett, assistant referee of the Birmingham air races, which signed the report of the city's new municipal airport, May 30 to June 1. Officials found the Birmingham pilot guilty of unsportsmanlike conduct while flying over the city of Birmingham and of unsportsmanlike attitude toward the officials of the meet.

The official report of the episode, which furnished the principal "thrill" of the three-day contest, was as follows: "Racing in a scheduled event, Pilot Messer violated F. A. I. racing rules by cutting inside and passing another competitor on a pylon and in so doing fouled the plane he endeavored to pass, causing the two crafts to collide in mid-air at an altitude of approximately 200 feet and while they were both in vertical banks. A serious mishap was averted only by quick action on the part of the pilot who, by a sharp turn, slipping his ship up and away from Messer's plane."
